Executive Director Robert Stresak,

I have some additional information to give you as a follow up to my letter I sent you last week. I have talked to the supervisor of the ABC training department and she told me that she contacted POST last June to see if I could take a requalification course again or if I had to go through a RBC. She was told that I would have to go through RBC. The department was not aware that I had a current post certificate during my hiring process.

As I stated in my previous letter, the department and I were not aware that I had an active certificate that expired at the end of December 2014. I was given a job offer in January 2015, please don't let that one month gap affect my future when the department did not know I had a valid POST certificate during my hiring process. If they had known, I'm sure they would have expedited the hiring process and put me into their training program instead of the academy.

Sincerely,

Vikas Kurian
